Hot Springs Laid Waste by Water, Flames and Wind

loods Sweep Down Suddenly on City From Three Mountains Nearby.

IRE STARTS IN DEBRIS

Conflicting Reports Come Out of Health Resort as to Number of Lives Lost; Water Reported Four to Nine Feet Deep in Streets.

By Associated Press.
MEMPHIS, May 15.—A telegram received from the Western Union number at Hot Springs at 10:30 said so far as known no lives had been lost in that the Mountain Hotel and a number of nearby buildings had been destroyed. No estimate of the property damage was available at that time.

LITTLE ROCK, May 15.—Framing reports received by the Little Rock Democrat from Hot Springs indicated that reports that there had been a heavy loss of life there had been exaggerated but one report that six or eight persons were dead persisted.

TEXARKANA, May 15.—Unofficial reports received here by the Two-States Telephone Company from Hot Springs state that the known dead in a storm and fire last night would be about 17. Water is running 11 feet deep in central avenue in places, it is said.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 15.—Hot springs, a famous resort and city of any disasters, was stricken last night by a flood which swept down the sides of three mountains which form a triangle about the city and by fire which broke out in the streets.

Reports coming through place the loss of life at 17, although one report, based on railroad telegraph wires, Shawnee, Okla., estimated the number of deaths as high as 50.

Wire communication with Hot Springs from Little Rock was restored a short time today but the city was still in a state of confusion.

From sources widely separated at St. Louis, Kansas City and Joplin, Mo., Muskogee, Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla., and Texarkana and Hot Springs, it is gathered that the loss of life in the city was not as high as the reports of the mountain slopes.

The one brief news bulletin direct from Hot Springs devoted a paragraph to a generalization of the reports of the mountain slopes.

Stores and homes were crushed by a torrent. Automobiles with the occupants were whirled away and at least half a dozen negro dwellings in the southern section of the town were borne off on the crest of the rising stream.

Fire quickly burst out and before men, impeded by the high water, could fight it, an entire city block had been destroyed and reports stated that a number of persons were killed in the flames. The Mountain Hotel and Grand Rapids hotel are among the buildings reported razed.

A report to Muskogee, Okla., today that the Grand Rapids Hotel was burned and that it is the only one of high class and heavy rating in the city. In St. Louis, trees were felled, electric lights were put out and plate glass windows were broken.

BENTON, Ark., May 15.—Considerable damage to property and crops and some damage to telephone and telegraph lines is reported from eastern and southern Illinois as a result of high winds and heavy rains. In St. Louis, trees were felled, electric lights were put out and plate glass windows were broken.

INCREASE IN PAY OF THIRD-CLASS CITY OFFICIALS

Is Proposed in the MacDade Bill Now Before the Legislature.

TO BE FIXED BY COUNCIL

HARRISBURG, May 15.—Increases in the minimum salaries which may be paid councilmen and mayors of third class cities, are provided in a bill introduced in the Legislature by Senator MacDade. Maximum salaries also are increased.

The minimum salary for councilmen would be increased from $250 to $375 per year and the maximum from $3,000 to an amount not to exceed $4,500. Minimum salaries for mayors would be increased from $600 to $750 and maximum salaries which are now $3,500 could be increased not to exceed $5,250.

Under the act the council would determine what salary is to be paid the members and the mayor but no salary increases would be effective during the term for which they are elected.

Regarding the salary of mayors the bill provides that "until changed by ordinance the salary of said mayors in cities of the third class shall be as follows: In cities having a population of 15,000 or under, by the United States census, $750, instead of $500; in cities having a population of over 15,000 and less than 30,000 inhabitants, $1,450, instead of $1,200; in cities having a population exceeding 30,000 and not exceeding 50,000, $3,750, instead of $2,500; in cities having over 50,000, and not exceeding 70,000, $4,500, instead of $3,500; in cities having a population of over 70,000, $5,250, instead of $3,500."

Salaries of councilmen would be fixed as follows until changed by ordinance:

"In cities of the third class of 15,000 inhabitants or under by the last United States census, each councilman shall receive a salary of $450 per annum, instead of $300; where said population is between 15,000 and 30,000, $1,225 per annum, instead of $750; in cities having a population above 30,000 and not exceeding 50,000, $3,000 per annum, instead of $2,000; in cities having a population of over 50,000 and not exceeding 70,000, $3,750, instead of $2,500; in cities having a population of over 70,000, $4,500, instead of $3,500."

These provisions to sign were W. H. Marietta, William Hillen, A. D. Piri and William Herman. It was said but two, Mr. Marietta and Mr. Hillen, were actually opposed to the improvement as proposed. The committee did not get to see John Barnes and Mrs. Lavina Preston.

In the hope that others may sign Council deferred action until next Monday night.

DUGGANS ASK SEWER IN LEISNERG AVE.

Herbert Duggan appeared before Council Monday evening in behalf of the estate of the late Mayor Duggan, to ask that Council sewer Leisnerg avenue. He proposed to bear the expense if the amount expended would be applied to the estate's cost of paying the street.

Council postponed in order that the Duggans construct the sewer and that it be taken over by the city when a specified number of houses is erected. An ordinance and agreement to this effect will be drawn.

Mr. Duggan said the estate planned to erect four houses along the street. The said contracts were let during the last week for night houses and that all counted 11 contracts have been signed.

CHANGES IN SYSTEM OF BANK OPERATION SUGGESTED TO HOUSE

By Associated Press.
HARRISBURG, May 15.—Recommendations designed to provide greater safeguards for banking institutions both through the State Banking Department and the institutions themselves are contained in the report of the special committee of the House appointed to investigate the banking department.

The committee was named under a resolution introduced as a result of the discovery of a $1,000,000 shortage in the City Bank of York.

"Immediate and earnest consideration" by the House of the banking code is the first recommendation.

The committee recommended there be established in each banking institution under the direction of a commissioner such a system of control of operation as to enable the directors to effect a system of checking and counter-checking the work done by the employees and officers.

The committee holds that the commissioner and his predecessor "have done all that could be reasonably expected of them in view of the limitations imposed on them."

The Ways and Means Committee at a meeting today voted 19 to eight to report out the manufacturers' tax with a negative recommendation. The committee, according to Chairman Warner, did not consider other tax measures and members of the committee said action on these had been postponed indefinitely.

BOND ISSUE FOR SEWERS ABANDONED

The proposal made some time ago in City Council to issue bonds to sewer extensions has been abandoned for the reason that it has been discovered the city is now up to the limit of bonded indebtedness without a vote of the people. This explanation was made at the May meeting Monday evening by Superintendent C. E. Stone of the Department of Accounts and Finance who made the bond issue proposal.

In line with a movement to save all money possible for sewer work Council voted to cancel the proposed ordinance providing $2,500 for an addition to the West Side sewer station and rejected bids for this work.

Councilman Jesse A. Cypher, sponsor of the building program, supported it to the end.

Council authorized the redemption of $9,000 of the 1920 refunding bond issue of $17,000. Only this amount of the issue has been located. The bonds are redeemable at par and accrued interest. The money will be re-invested in liberty or other bonds.

Four owners of property along Snyder street have refused to sign the agreement to release the city from damages that might arise from the paving of the street, it was disclosed when the project was brought up in Council Monday night. Two others were not seen by the committee which circulated the agreement.

Those refusing to sign were W. H. Marietta, William Hillen, A. D. Piri and William Herman. It was said but two, Mr. Marietta and Mr. Hillen, were actually opposed to the improvement as proposed. The committee did not get to see John Barnes and Mrs. Lavina Preston.

In the hope that others may sign Council deferred action until next Monday night.

Interest Is Growing As New Presentation of "Bonus" Nears

The fact that "The Bonus" has been re-written for its new presentation at the High School Auditorium, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club, Thursday and Friday nights, is creating a great deal of interest among local amusement lovers. It is a common thing for plays which are to be presented in New York to be written and rewritten several times before they are finally pronounced ready for public presentation. "The Bonus" was pronounced a great success in its original form—and it is promised that in its new guise form it will add new laurels to those it has already attained.

The play is being presented for the benefit of local underprivileged children. The cause of these less fortunate ones has been espoused by the Kiwanis Club and the performances are given to supply funds to aid them throughout the coming year.

Progressive citizens are being held to make sure that the production will more smoothly and members of the cast state that they are ready to write a new chapter in the history of local histrionic endeavors.

The scenic effects which created so much favorable comment at the play's initial performance are to be used again. Folks who saw the first performance are unanimous in declaring that they are in themselves, well worth the admission fee.

Tickets for "The Bonus" are on sale at Hazell's, Buel's and the Connellsville Drug Company. Every Kiwanian is also equipped with a generous supply. The Kiwanis Club invites every one interested in an absorbing evening's entertainment to attend.

ANNUAL SCHOOL EXHIBIT WILL BE HELD ON MAY 25

Specimens of Student Work Being Assembled for Public Inspection.

FREE TO ALL THE PEOPLE

The annual manual training, art and domestic science exhibit of the grade schools and High School of the city will be held Friday, May 25. This date was announced today in preference to June 1, one week later, as there will be much activity in preparation for graduation at that time.

The exhibit is one of interest to parents and relatives of the students and each year attracts hundreds to the long corridor on the first floor of the High School building where it is held.

The affair is in charge of J. E. Robbins of the manual training department; Miss Mary Brickman, art supervisor; Miss Margaret Klingensmith and Miss Emma Katharine Kurtz, instructors in domestic science and sewing. They are now making arrangements for the articles and materials to be displayed.

The exhibit shows the work done in the several departments by students in the various stages from beginner to senior. One of the most attractive corners of the big hall is that devoted to art. Each year much improvement in the drawings is seen, especially in the higher classes. Some of the students who take the course their first year it is elective with them and then follow it through are able to do very creditable work.

Work of both the grades and High School is displayed.

The section most attractive to the mothers, sisters and aunts is that given over to the domestic science and sewing exhibits. Canned goods, pastries, bread and cakes are included in the cooking display and the articles from the sewing room even include some of the finest frocks a girl's heart could desire. They are all made by the students.

The boys in the manual training department are working hard to finish some of their big jobs in time to get them into the exhibit. Each student is allowed to make what he wishes and some of them elected to build some light, bulky jobs which require much work and attention.

The exhibit will be for the one evening only and will be free. The hours will be from 7 to 9 o'clock and members of students are especially urged to attend. To some extent the exhibit takes the place of patron's day here.

GASOLINE TAX BILL LOSES IN HOUSE BY OVERWHELMING VOTE

HARRISBURG, May 15.—After a two-hour debate the House last night defeated by an overwhelming vote, the entire tax program suggested by the Ways and Means Committee as a method by which to raise sufficient emergency revenue to take care of the State's activities during the next two years.

The Whiteinan bill, proposing a one-cent increase per gallon in the gasoline tax, was defeated, only 20 members voting for it, and 163 against it.

The Harter bill proposing a surtax of from 10 to 25 per cent on present taxes, received but 31 votes, 165 members voting against it.

The Alexander bill, which would have placed a small tax on cigars, cigarettes, tobacco and chewing gum, was dropped from the calendar by a viva voce vote, not even its strongest supporters having the nerve to ask for a roll-call in face of the apparent opposition to anything in the way of a new or increased tax.

Before action was taken on any of these bills an effort to discharge the Ways and Means Committee from consideration of the Stark bill imposing a four mill tax on the capital stock of manufacturing corporations was defeated. One hundred and three members voted in favor of indefinitely postponing the resolution that would have placed the Stark bill on the calendar for consideration of the House. Seventy-five members favored the resolution.

The taxation battle opened five minutes after the House convened when Representative Charles F. Armstrong of Armstrong county presented a resolution moving the discharge of the Ways and Means Committee from consideration of the Stark bill, which would impose a four mill tax on the capital stock of manufacturing corporations.

Sixty votes would have been sufficient to discharge the committee under the rules, but Representative John M. Flynn of Elk county, by moving that the Armstrong resolution be indefinitely postponed, placed the matter in a position where a majority vote could swing it one way or another.

Council Asked to Vacate Streets for Use of West Penn

In order to be in position to enlarge its facilities on the West Side in the vicinity of the car barns and shops, the West Penn Railway Company has asked City Council to vacate unused streets in that locality. An ordinance presented to Council Monday evening by General Manager H. L. Mitchell proposes the vacation of Sixth street between Leisnerg and Graham avenues, an unnamed alley between Sixth and Seventh streets; Graham avenue from Seventh street to the Pennsylvania railroad and Green street between the same points.

The matter was laid over until next Monday night. In the mean time Council will make a study of some storm sewer connections and extensions in the territory.

The company plans to erect storage buildings it was said.

MESSAGE SENT BY PRIEST

By Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, May 15.—Unless the foreign representatives in China guarantee by tonight that the Chinese government will carry out terms fixed by the bandits for the Shantung hills the foreigners held captive will be killed, Father William Linfer, an aged priest who conferred with the bandit chieftain, reported to the American consul at Lincheng today.

Father Linfer described the chieftain, called Wang, as a young man, clean, well dressed, wearing eye glasses. The priest persuaded Wang to extend for a day the limit of his ultimatum which had been fixed at two days from midnight. Wang told him that the pledges of Chinese officials meant nothing to the bandits and hence the word of the "foreign diplomats" must be given.

Commander Wang drafted his terms which did not demand money as required that the Peking government reserve all the bandits to the status of regular soldiers, with a pledge that they would suffer no reprisals. Father Linfer, arriving in Lincheng after insupportable hardships, presented Wang's letter to the American consul today.

The priest said the leader of the outlaws, "quite-toned, cordial, friendly, calm" made this comment on the possible failure of the Chinese government and the foreign ministers to do his bidding:

"Do not deceive yourselves for believe me, I threaten I will carry out exactly as I promise. You are a missionary and you know that what I say is true."

Railroad men whose work compels them to eat at irregular intervals, making it impossible for the system to settle down must have good health. If their stomach and liver refuse to function properly the trouble, due to this condition, made on the system will compel a complete layoff from work. This no man can afford to do.

Mr. S. A. Weyman of Brownsville began to feel the effects of irregular eating, that his work made necessary. His system became run down and indigestion bothered him and he was constantly constipated.

"Due to necessity of having to eat my meals only when opportunity offered, and the irregularity of my hours my stomach began to bother me," declares Mr. Weyman.

"I suffered with indigestion most all of the time and my bowels were clogged constantly."

"Then Drecto came into my life and changed all this. And now after taking two bottles of this wonderful remedy all trace of indigestion has disappeared and my system has been cleaned out. No more being bothered with constipation."

"For a railroad man who has to eat at irregular times Drecto is the one remedy that will keep his system in good condition."

It is certainly a fine medicine for stomach trouble.

People who are rundown, tired out, debilitated, no matter what the cause, are advised to try this little test. Get from any well stocked drug store a bottle of Drecto. Take a spoonful with each meal for a few days and watch how the change works through the whole body. The appetite increases, everything you eat seems to taste better, there is no dyspepsia or run after meals. The bowels, kidneys, stomach work in harmony and the rich, red blood goes coursing through the veins. This is what hundreds of men and women of this section say Drecto has done for them. Isn't it reasonable to expect it to do the same for you?

Drecto is being speedily introduced by the Connelville Drug Co. Call on them and they will gladly tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 15, 1923.

THE SPRING CLEAN-UP.

Some people do the obvious and necessary thing without having to be told. Others need more to be reminded of their duty and they attend to it promptly. Still others have in a measure to be driven.

That is why the municipal authorities have each spring to issue orders setting aside certain days for cleaning up the winter's accumulation of rubbish about homes and places of business. Most people make this a part of the annual renovation of their premises as a matter of course, but others apparently overlook the fact that tidying the back yard or the varied assortment of waste objects and material is as much a part of the spring cleaning as beating the carpet of the "best" room.

Every property owner and tenant knows that these precautions are taken in the interest of the community health, his or her premises included. Further, a complete removal of garden litter and household rubbish tides up the home surroundings and makes it appear that people are living there. All of which tends to making the city more inviting to the eye and to improve the visitor with the fact that you are not negligent in your duties.

The work of collecting and removing rubbish will fall upon property owners, tenants, entirely, or will have to be done by persons employed for that purpose. Several years ago when we did not know the advantages of having the back yard as clean as the front, free hauling was provided by some public spirited citizens. This favor was not appreciated as highly as it should have been, but it is too much to expect that service of this kind will be furnished again.

It will, therefore, be up to property owners and tenants to make all the arrangements necessary to place their premises in such condition that no disease germ can find lodgment and that unsightliness will be supplanted by tidiness and neatness.

GROWTH OF "THE GREATEST MILKMAKING COUNTRY"

If Gladstone were living today, and the divorce statistics from Chicago were brought to his attention, he would be moved to make still stronger his statement that "divorce is the greatest menace to America as a nation."

During the first three months of 1923 one divorce has been granted for every five marriages licensed in the United States. In 10 years the ratio of divorces to marriages has increased from one to three. The main reasons for this alarming increase in the number of legal separations of the marriage bond, as gathered from observations made by judges presiding in the divorce courts, have been summarized as follows:

"Constant invasion of commerce, business and industry, which has taken women off her job."

"The rage of jazz, cabarets and mob culture on the hip."

"Ultra-sophistication on the part of the rising generation."

"Living with the old folk during the house shortage, giving the
'in-law' bug a chance to bite."

"A fatal growing view that marriage is only a civil contractual relation that is to be entered lightly. The 'holy bonds of marriage,' in the minds of the many, mean the 'loose-belly bonds.'"

"Too little religion in the home, too little early training."

"Poor cooking, disinclination of the domestic instinct in the emancipated woman; too many nails carved out of the ovens; stove dust out of the window as the delectable 'dinner' comes in at the door."

To the foregoing there may be added another reason which to a very large extent places upon society at large much of the blame for what is termed the increasing "popularity" of divorce. This was and not so many years ago as to have been forgotten, when securing a divorce, except upon statutory grounds, was fit to be a disgrace to both parties and social ostracism was one of the penalties. Now, securing a divorce carries no more than passing comment unless the trial of the cause is replete with sensational features.
In other cases the efforts to secure annulment of the bonds which were once believed to have been sacredly entered into, no longer excites adverse comment. This absence of that wholesome public sentiment which should inspire greater respect for the obligations assumed at the marriage altar, lays at the door of society at large much of the responsibility for the alarming increase in the number of divorces and the multiplicity and finny character of the grounds upon which applications for release from the marriage relation are now based.

Little wonder is it, then, that divorce is becoming even a greater menace to America than Gladiators, almost a half century ago, declared it to be.

Old Versus New Plans.

Tacoma, Lodger.
Virginia may have a new motor with one spark plug that will drive an automobile 10 miles on a gallon of gas. One-plug vehicles in the oil days were known to go that far on a gallon of oil.

But Cabbage Season Is Coming.

A learned physician says that people look like what they eat. We did find this winter season is almost ended.

To Make Sugar Cheap.

Norfolk, Virginia Pilot.
Apparently, the government has decided that the way to make sugar cheap and plentiful is to ration it.

Just Folks.

Edgar A. Guest.

NOBLESSE.

Not much he did to win men's praise
His record shows but little fame.
He lived the number of his days
With only friendship's wealth to claim.

He neighbored in a kindly way.
Went every morning to his task,
He had a word of cheer to say
And help to give if men should ask.

He never grumbled or complained
That greatness was not to know.
Nor did he envy men who gained
The glories brilliance may bestow.

The little home which knew his smile
Was warm with kindness and cheer,
Which seemed to overlook the fact
That God himself had sent the tear.

He censured none whose flesh was weak.
He never told a bitter tale.
The good in him he tried to seek.
He knew that all of us are frail.

Many have richer than he,
The fame of many will survive.
But none remember that he will be
Who taught us how to live our lives.

"GLADE" ROAD IS BOOSTED AT RALLY AT MT. PLEASANT

Men Active in Affairs in Many Places Speak at Meeting.

OTHER NEWS OF THE DAY

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, May 15.—The Mount Pleasant Good Roads Association held a meeting last evening in the borough building, and the room was not large enough to accommodate the people from Mount Pleasant, Somerset, Monongahela, Monaca, and other towns that gathered to boost road No. 181, known as the "Glade" route.

Burgess William M. Overholt, president of the association, presided. Dr. John L. Burkholder, secretary, read a letter from the State Highway Department telling of a visit of Representative John B. Goldsmith and explaining why this road could not be added except on the state 50 per cent, county 25 per cent and township 25 per cent basis.

Dr. Burkholder reported that until last evening 170 names had been received for membership.

On motion of Dr. B. M. Lear, chairman of the executive committee, it was decided to make the membership committee 15 instead of three. This will include men from different sections interested in good roads.

"Colonel" Werner of Somerset, Mr. Cook of Somerset, County Commissioner Hibbs, representing the Monaca Board of Trade, Mr. Shanks, chairman of the roads committee of Monaca, Frank Coudon and J. Long of Monongahela spoke in the interest of the road. Mr. Wagner of Monongahela said that Allegheny county was willing to do its share at its end. L. E. Flint of Monaca called attention to the fact that the Glade road would be almost direct to the National highway from Lincoln highway and would be the most direct east and west route of the state, that it will be the shortest travel from east to west and once traveled will be "first, last and all the time." Mr. Devors, Monongahela, known as the road promoter, read a letter signifying the intention of the county commissioners at Allegheny county to help build the road.

John Bush of Pleasant Unity also spoke. Dr. Burkholder, at the request of the president, then presented the road as Mount Pleasant needed it. He told of the impassable condition of Route No. 181 to the train, that it would give us an outlet to Pittsburgh, to a train, and to a good north and south road.

Postmaster C. A. Grant spoke of how in bad weather the mail must be closed up to 20 minutes earlier to get over the bad roads.

The association went on record at the close of the meeting as being in favor of Route 181 from end to end.

"At Greensburg Meeting."

Rev. Paul Stonestier, pastor of the Reformed church, was at a ministerial meeting in Greensburg yesterday and read a paper on "Joins."

Daniel Stevenson Dead.

Misses Viola and Madge Stevenson went to Pittsburgh last evening to attend the funeral of their uncle, Daniel Stevenson. Mr. Stevenson is survived by two brothers and one sister. S. C. Stevenson of this place who is ill and unable to attend the funeral. O. C. Stevenson of Manchester and Mrs. J. P. Workman of Mount Pleasant.

Janda's death, has been sent to Lockburg as pastor of St. Martin's, as a permanent charge, and Rev. Charles Janda, one year at Brownsville and 17 years at New Salem, will come to Mount Pleasant.

A Talk With A Connellsville Man

S. Moser, Prop. Barber Shop, 105 E. Crawford Avenue, Tells His Experience.

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving you an accurate and unvarnished account of the sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We therefore give here an interview with a Connellsville man:

"I have been in the barber business for twenty-five years and the constant standing caused my back to ache," says Mr. Moser. "When I bent over my back was stiff and lame and it was hard for me to stand at the barber chair for nine hours. My kidneys were far from right, being rather sluggish. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me instant relief. The backache ceased and my kidneys were put in fine shape. I was cured and have had no further trouble. I know Doan's are absolutely all right."

Priced 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the name that Mr. Moser had. Foster-McBride Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Jumonville to Be Made Into a Pleasure Resort

The former Uniontown Soldiers' Orphan School, at Jumonville, abandoned for school purposes in 1910, will be converted into a summer resort. Mrs. Mary Banks Waters, widow of Rev. John A. Waters, and Harry Whysel of Uniontown have purchased the interests of the other heirs to the Waters estate. The property embraces 100 acres of land and a group of nearly a dozen buildings, the main one of which has been remodeled into a hotel which will be under the management of Mrs. Waters and which will be formally opened June 15.

Others of the buildings are to be remodeled and repaired for summer cottages.

MELODY THE LIFE OF MUSIC

No Training So Complete or Thorough With Success Without It, According to Master.

What gives life to a work, what makes it true, will never be its characteristics, polytonal or atonal, but, rather, its essential melody. Hence springs its real power, because it comes straight from the heart of the musician. There is no training so complete or so thorough that it can suffice without that melodic source, Darius Milhaud writes in the North American Review. It is the primary element, the authentic organic one, that comes from the pure sentiment itself and that is conducive to rhythmic and harmonic design. Without melody all composing will fall or end in vain rhetoric, quite conventional and empty. It is the entire secret of music, which I found out one day when I was studying at the conservatory with my master, Andre Gedalge. I was showing him some very symphonic piano or other and he said to me, "Write for me eight measures that can be played without any accompaniment."

Melody is thus our aim and greatest ambition. It alone will allow us to work by our imagination and yet keep close to the tradition which we feel to be ours.

How To Forget TROUBLES

TROUBLES knock up your system like Jack Dempsey knocks down his opponent.

Troubles deal blows both in the head and stomach—and they hurt the stomach more than they do the head!

Troubles give the stomach indigestion, slow up the liver—and then follow constipation and biliousness.

The way to get rid of troubles is to invigorate digestion, stimulate liver and bowels and tone up the entire system. The best way to do this has been for the past 30 years—is to take Beecham's Pills.

Then you will feel so good that "troubles" become merely problems to be solved readily by the clear, keen brain of health.

A FRONT PAGE STORY—Presenting Edward Horton and Edith Roberts in interesting roles in the feature attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre.

A Front Page Story does what many other photoplays have tried to do and failed. It presents a newspaper story that is true to life. It takes the spectator behind the scenes and shows the real workings of a newspaper and the loads that result over politics and editorials. It illustrates the life in any city where the mayor and the editor are both trying to work independent of each other for the good of the people. As a result, there are many thoughtful humorous situations and exciting incidents which make this one of the best photoplays of the year. The love interest is introduced with a new angle. There is a thrill that comes through the veins of every reader as he reads his first story in print. Usually it has been so that he scarcely recognizes it, but it is the child of his brain and he gets the thrill and awakes with pride. When he thinks into the front page with a story he experiences another thrill and feels that he has made good. This is the thrill that Edward Horton is feeling as he looks at his handiwork and brain child in A Front Page Story.

Wednesday and Thursday Gimme will be shown.

THE FLIRT—Booth Tarkington's masterpiece with a distinction of can of artists appearing in difficult roles in the leading attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre. It is the type of a story that holds the attention of the audience from the start to the finish and is one of the best pictures shown at this theatre in months.

What causes a certain type woman other than the flapper type to flirt recklessly with every man she meets? This question was put to Professor George Leonard noted psychologist and his answer is illuminating.

The flirt is a rather unintelligent woman to whom physical attractiveness is the prime consideration of life. She has been trained from infancy to consider a woman's career as successful only when she has a number of men wild about her giving her flowers taking her to theatre and cafes and in other ways showing their enthusiasm.

Having never acquired any material value in the business or profession, she feels she must lean on a man for power and respect. She is a flapper in all sorts and conditions of men for whom in the majority of cases, she has the slightest fancy.

To the flirt the main thing is that she can lead in a man's eyes the verdict. I am still not sure if they really opened their eyes at this time for a flapper and a woman in the business of a flapper, this type woman is passing and within a few years will be relatively an unknown.

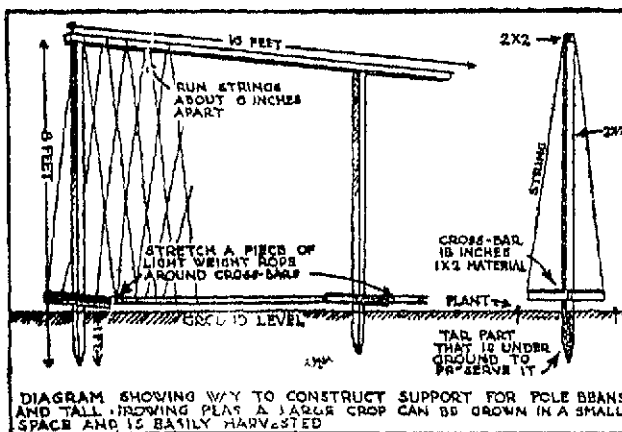

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Phyllis Dean will be on at The Flirt of Life.

The Orpheum

TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY—With Mary Pickford in the lead role, this picture is a masterpiece of the art of the flapper. It is a story of a flapper who is a flapper in all sorts and conditions of men for whom in the majority of cases, she has the slightest fancy.

The Home Garden

Pole Beans to Save Space

In the very small garden, it is almost impossible to grow the pole varieties of string beans for the space up in the air will yield more beans than the same space upon the ground, having the ground for other crops to be grown between the poles. While poles are scarce the simplest way to grow pole beans is to set posts at each end of the row where they are to grow stretch a wire from the top of one post to the other and a similar wire about six inches from the ground, tying all cords between the wires with vines. The bottom wire may be omitted and a small stake may be placed by each plant to which to tie the string. The poles should be set about two feet underground and five feet above the ground.

Popularity of Margarine Enjoying Steady Growth

Although margarine, sometimes called oleomargarine, has enjoyed the public confidence for more than half a century, it was not until America's entry into the Great War that widespread attention was directed toward its use. Then, at the insistence of the United States Food Administration, women who never before had given margarine a thought began using it as a part of the Thrift program which the Government was then sponsoring.

The endorsement of the United States Food Administration established for all time the standing of margarine as a wholesome and nourishing food product. Women who first were delighted by its purity, delicacy of flavor and, best of all, its wide usefulness. Since that time many of them have continued to use margarine as a matter of preference, regardless of its marked economy, and have recommended it to their friends. Hence the popularity of margarine has enjoyed an astounding growth, with the result that last year its sale was 160 per cent greater than before the war.

Cooperating with the United States Food Administration, many eminent health and food authorities also gave their recognition and approval to margarine. While the approval of this United States Government, in itself would seem to carry sufficient weight, the combined approval of many independent authorities removed the last doubt from the people's mind regarding margarine.

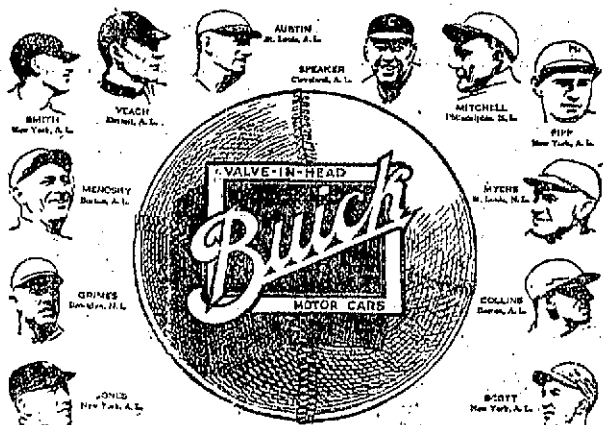

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of the City of New York, said: "The ingredients of margarine are digestible, nutritious, and high in food value. When made under sanitary conditions, with every ingredient sterilized, and when it is properly packed and handled, margarine is a safe and wholesome food product."

Another noted food authority, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, added the weight of his opinion by saying: "The compounds used in the manufacture of margarine are all wholesome and digestible materials, such as are contained in eating various food products."

And last, but not least, the Ladies' Home Journal, came out with this strong statement: "In margarine, science has provided us with a substitute that is not understood or appreciated as it should be. It is wholesome and economical, and is a valuable substitute for costly spreads. No intelligent woman should permit herself to condemn the article when she does not know even the processes of its manufacture."

While margarine was originally thought of only as a spread for bread, and is being extensively used for that purpose, good cooks have discovered that many articles of food may, economically enriched by its addition. In baking, the use of margarine as a shortening has proved to be the real "baking secret" upon which many housewives have their reputation as creators of delightful food delicacies. The wider use of margarine, therefore, will not only enable the housewife to exercise greater economy in household expenditures, but will greatly add to the success of her cooking and its ultimate approval by her family and friends.

LARGE CROWDS SEE AND ARE MUCH PLEASED WITH ROBINSON SHOW

That Connellsville people appreciate a good circus was evidenced by the crowds that attended the two performances of the John Robinson shows Saturday afternoon and evening and the applause given performers. In the afternoon, with fairly good weather, the big tent at Payette Field was filled. Rain interfered in the evening but nevertheless the tent was three-quarters filled.

The show was different from any that has appeared in Connellsville. Trained animals, tame and wild, were featured but there was not an uninteresting moment from the beginning to the end. The show opened with the musical extravaganza, Peter Pan, which was an innovation in circuses here. As a rule not more than two plays were going at a time and when the leading features were put on there was ample opportunity for all to see them.

Vocal music at several times during the performance was a popular diversion and a new one here. In this Miss Julian Rogers and a chorus of pretty girls featured.

The show was clean—lacking the features that often attend the presentation of a circus. By many the John Robinson shows were declared to be the best ever shown here.

Gertrude West, a circus performer, suffered severe bruises and a shaking up when she fell from her swing during the afternoon performance and landed on a tub used in the elephant act. The young woman was one of the 25 or 30 who swing on ladders, which were hung all the way around the big tent. She misjudged her hold at one time during a long swing and dropped. She was carried out instantly and many in the audience, with the exception of those in the immediate vicinity, knew nothing of it.

Examination by the circus physician disclosed no serious injuries and she was able to go on with the show to Youngstown, Ohio, where a performance will be given today.

A rider was injured in the morning during the formation of the parade. Her horse became frightened at the ringing of a bell and threw her. She suffered a slightly sprained wrist but took her part in the performance. In the evening a girl rider of a bounding horse fell but managed to take her place again.

Gittin' Before th' People

CLASSIFIED AD. ONLY ONE CENT A WORD.

"Don't garden, but I'm pressed for time," said Stewart, coolly, as with iron arm he forced Dorothy's horse almost to its knees. Dorothy, who was active and plucky, climbed astride; and when Stewart loosed his hold on her, she swung the horse doubled up and began to buck. Dorothy screamed as she shot into the air. Stewart, as quick as the horse, leaped forward and caught Dorothy in his arms. She had slipped head downward, and had he not caught her, would have had a serious fall. Stewart, handling her as if she were a child, turned her right side up, to set her upon her feet. Dorothy evidently thought only of the spectacle she presented, and made stilted motions to readjust her riding-habit. It was no time to laugh, though Madeline felt as if she wanted to. Besides, it was impossible to be anything but sober with Stewart in violent mood. For he had jumped at Dorothy's stubborn mount. All cowboys were masters of horses. It was wonderful to see him conquer the vicious animal. He was cruel, perhaps, yet it was from necessity. When, presently, he led the horse back to Dorothy she mounted without further trouble. Meanwhile, Nels and Nick had lifted Helen into her saddle.

"We'll take the side trail," said Stewart, shortly, as he swung upon the big black. Then he led the way, and the other cowboys trotted in the rear. It was a horse trail, the weathered ropes seemed to slide under the feet of the horses. Dust clouds formed; rocks rolled and rattled down; cactus spikes tore at horse and rider. Half the time Madeline could not distinguish those ahead through the yellow dust. It was dry and made her cough. The horses splashed at length the clouds of dust behind and Madeline saw the action before her ride out upon a level. Soon she was down, and Stewart also.

The alert, quiet manner of all the cowboys was not reassuring. As they resumed the ride it was noticeable that Nels and Nick were far in advance. Monty stayed far in the rear, and Stewart rode with the party. Madeline knew that they were really being escorted home under armed guard.

When they rounded the bend of the mesa, bringing into view the ranch-house and the valley, Madeline saw dust or smoke hovering over a hill upon the outskirts of the Mexican quarter. As the sun had set and the light was fading, she could not distinguish which it was. Then Stewart set a fast pace for the house. In a few minutes the party was in the yard, ready and willing to dismount.

Stillwell appeared, ostensibly cheerful, too cheerful to deceive Madeline. She noted also that a number of armed cowboys were walking with their horses just before the house.

"Well, Stillwell had a nice little run," Stillwell said, speaking covertly. "I reckon there wasn't much need of it. But I have things to get some one else's corns rubbed on the ranch. Nothing at all to be feared about. Stewart's that particular he won't have you meet with any cowboys."

Many and fervent were the expressions of relief from Madeline's female guests as they dismounted and went into the house. Madeline lingered behind to speak with Stillwell and Stewart.

"Now, Stillwell, out with it," she said, briefly.

"Well, Miss Madeline, there's going to be a fight somewhere, and Stewart wanted to get out of it before it came off. He says the valley's overrun by vaqueros and guerrillas and robbers, and Lord knows what else."

His stamp of the porch, his huge spurs rattling, and started down the path toward the waiting men.

Stewart stood in his familiar attentive position, erect, silent, with a hand on his pistol and bridle.

"Stewart, you are exceedingly thoughtful of my interests," she said, wanting to thank him, and not readily finding words. "I would not know what to do without you. Is there danger?"

"I'm not sure. But I want to be on the safe side."

She hesitated. It was no longer easy for her to talk to him, and she did not know why.

"May I know the special order you gave Nels and Nick and Monty?" she asked.

"Of course I'll tell you if you insist. My orders were that at least one of them must be on guard near your door and night—never to be out of hearing of your voice."

"I thought as much. Stewart, you tell Don Carlos tried to make out with me—may try it again?" she asked.

"And besides all your other duties you have shouldered the watch with these three cowboys?"

"It has been going on without my knowledge? How long is it to continue?"

"That's hard to say. 'Till the revolution is over, anyhow."

She missed a moment, looking away to the west, where the great void was filling with red haze. She believed implicitly in him, and the menace hovering near her felt like a shadow upon her present happiness.

"What must I do?" she asked.

"I think you ought to send your friends back East—and go with them, until this guerrilla war is over."

"Why, Stewart, they would be broken-hearted, and so would I."

"He had no reply for that."

"If I do not take your advice it will be the first time since I have come to look to you for so much," she went on. "Cannot you suggest something else? My friends are having such a splendid visit. Helen is getting well. Oh, I should be sorry to see them go before they want to."

"We might take them up into the mountains and camp out for a while," he said, presently. "I know a wild place up among the crags. It's a hard climb, but worth the work. I have seen a more beautiful spot. Fine water, and it will be cool. Pretty soon it'll be too hot here for your party to go out-of-doors."

"You mean to hide me away among the crags and clouds?" replied Madeline, with a laugh.

"Well, it'd amount to that. Your friends need not know. Feelings in a few weeks this spell of trouble on the border will be over till fall."

"You say it's a hard climb up to this place?"

"It surely is. Your friends will get the real thing if they make that trip."

"That suits me. Helen especially wants something to happen. Very well, I am decided. Stewart, of course you will take charge? I don't believe—Stewart, don't there something here you could tell me—why you think, why you know my own personal liberty is in peril?"

"Yes. But do not ask me what it is. If I hadn't been a rebel soldier I would never have known."

"If you had not been a rebel soldier, where would Madeline Hammond be now?" she asked, earnestly.

He made no reply.

"Stewart," she continued, with warm impulses, "you once mentioned a debt you owed me—"

And seeing his dark face pale, she wavered, then went on, "It is paid."

"No, no. That never can be paid," Madeline held out her hand.

"It is paid, I tell you," she repeated. Suddenly he drew back from the outstretched white hand that seemed to fascinate him.

"I'll kill a man to touch your hand. But I won't touch it on the terms you offer."

His unexpected passion disconcerted her.

"Stewart, no man ever before refused to shake hands with me, for any reason. It—it is severely humiliating," she said, with a little laugh. "Why won't you? Because you think I offer it as mistress to servant—rancher to cowboy?"

"No."

"Then why? The debt you owed me is paid. I cancel it. So why not shake hands upon it, as men do?"

"I won't. That's all."

"I fear you are ungracious, whatever your reason," she replied. "Still, I may offer it again some day. Good-night."

He said good-night and turned. Madeline wonderfully watched him go down the path with his hand on the black horse's neck.

She went in to rest a little before dressing for dinner and, being relieved from the day's riding and excitement, she felt asleep. When she awoke it was twilight. She wondered why her Mexican maid had not come to her, and she rang the bell. The maid did not put in an appearance, nor was there any answer to the ring. The house seemed unusually quiet. It was a brooding silence, which presently broke to the sound of footsteps on the porch. Madeline recognized Stillwell's tread, though it appeared to be light for him. Then she heard him call softly in at the open door of her office. The suggestion of caution in his voice suited the strangeness of his walk. With a boiling sense of trouble she hurried through the rooms. He was standing outside her office door.

"Stillwell," she exclaimed.

"Please come out on the porch."

She complied and, once out, was enabled to see him. His grave face, paler than she had ever beheld it, caused her to stretch an appealing hand toward him. Stillwell intercepted it and held it in his own.

"Miss Madeline, I'm amazed sorry to tell worrisome news. But it can't be avoided. The fact is we're in a bad fix. If your guests don't scud out of their skins till they come to your nerve and how you carry out Stewart's orders."

High School Athletes Put in More Time Training for Meet

Color Representatives Taking Advantage of Extra Period of Week.

TENNIS CLUB TO BANQUET

High School athletes reported in force at Physics Field yesterday afternoon to train for the first annual field meet of the Fayette County Interscholastic Athletic Association which was postponed from last Saturday to this week-end. The events will be run off at the Dawson Fair Grounds.

The meet was called off last week after continuous rains on Friday. With another week in which to train the color boys will be able to develop to a greater extent. The local boys never participated in such an affair before and all the training possible is needed by the youthful aspirants in order to reach the height of perfection.

PAUL TORNADOES OPEN SEASON WITH TROTTER TODAY

The well-known baseball team that bails from Vanderhill, known as the Paul Red Sox, now called the Paul Tornadoes, will open its season with the team from Trotter. Much interest is placed in this game as these teams are endeavoring to become champions of this county if possible. The Trotter boys always had a fast team, and this year is no exception, and they know that they are up against a fast team, one of their caliber and will present their most formidable team. These teams have never met before and thus it creates more interest. The teams clash today at the Y. M. C. A. grounds, at Dickerson Run. The lineup for the Tornadoes is as follows: Davis, short; Arant, first; Bates, second; Washington, third; Horvath, catcher; Harlin, left; Sepkovic, right; Brown, center; Anderson on the mound. In reserve, ready to take a chance on the mound are Washington, Davis, Scott and Sepkovic.

The Paul Tornadoes would like to meet some of the best teams in the county and are looking for games at the present for the remainder of the season, and would like to meet teams in the same class as these. West Side Vamps, Coalbrook, Leisening No. 1, 2 and 3, Jankara, Bitter, Dunbar, and all of these teams in Connellsville and Uniontown. When wanting games, write John H. Van, Vanderhill, Pa., care Paul Tornadoes.

Of Interest to Fans.
It is now just four more days until the opening of the local baseball season.

The color boys have a fifty percent chance of winning the local championship. The local club has been supported in many ways.

The Paul Tornadoes turned the tables on the Giants yesterday afternoon and won 4-1 in the second game of the series at New York. Babe Adams hit the champs to six hits. The only run scored by New York was Smith's home run. Tierney also had a clean hit.

It looks as though Jess Willard and Luis Angel Firpo, the South American, both of whom won victories in the night at Yankee Stadium, New York, on Saturday last, may come together on June 10. Tex Rickard is promoting the scrap and each is willing to step up in order to improve his chances for meeting Jack Dempsey. The winner of the bout will be the local man to fight the champion.

The Scottland Wildcats, colored, will play the Capitan, Glas, also at Capitan held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Joe Corbett last night knocked out Dick Smith in London for the English heavyweight title.

Pittsburgh gift packages in third place despite yesterday's victory over the Giants as St. Louis also won, defeating Boston, 7-1.

New York and Detroit engaged in a slugging match yesterday, hanging up a score of 16-11. New York finally winning the fight by scoring eight runs in the twelfth frame.

The Whistle Independent met the Peppery Run, Shoggers at Poplar Grove this evening at 5:30 o'clock.

The Morrell Athletics, play the Fayette Bakers on the 17-11. The game was held at 5:30 o'clock. The Morrell team would like to arrange games with first-class teams in Connellsville and vicinity. Call or write James Perkins, Sr., or Harry Long, First-Grade Candy Company.

The Morrell Juniors are desirous of meeting 16-18 years teams in Connellsville and nearby. Call or write James Perkins, 301 North Seventh street, Connellsville.

Herb Pratt, the little left-hander of the Browns, is about twenty pounds heavier this year than last. Manager Lee Fohl is trying to figure out how to keep it on him.

LOCAL RACQUETEERS WILL HAVE FOURTH PRE-SEASON "FEED"

The fourth annual banquet of the Connellsville Tennis Association will be held tonight at the Y. M. C. A. restaurant in the local hotel at 8:15 o'clock. All members will meet at the hotel as near that hour as possible.

The tennis club has already opened its season, this being the second week on the courts. Attorney S. K. Goldsmith will be toastmaster at tonight's affair.

The Dawson Gun Club is making arrangements for a big meet on Memorial Day.

The members of the club have been practicing daily and promise being good sport at the meet.

English Star Here

William R. Applegarth, England's greatest cricketer, has arrived here seeking a position as track coach and hopes to meet American stars. He holds many English titles and among his records is the 220-yard dash, which he made in 21 1/2 seconds, creating a new world's mark.

Bob Fitzsimmons Got Goat of Jim Corbett

Jim Corbett put up a wonderful battle against Fitzsimmons at Chicago City when he lost his heavyweight title to the latter in the fourteenth round. Fitzsimmons, however, went a long way toward winning that fight before the bell rang. Corbett was a high-strung individual, a fact with which the iron-nerved Fitzsimmons was well acquainted. During training Corbett and Fitzsimmons happened to meet while on the road. Bad blood had existed between them for some time, but Fitzsimmons extended his hand, and putting his hand behind his back, snapped: "I'll shake hands with you after I've whipped you on St. Patrick's day." "Then you'll never get the chance," snarled Fitz, proceeding on his way. Ugly remarks were passed in the pasting, indicating that Fitz had Corbett's "goat."
